CREATING STREETS FOR THE PEOPLE

Petaling Jaya aspires to become a sustainable city by 2030 and several ground breaking initiatives have been planned and will be put in place towards achieving this aspiration. One of the initiatives is towards improving connectivity and mobility throughout Petaling Jaya, achieving integration in transportation network and making Petaling Jaya friendlier to pedestrians and cyclists.

Achieving this aspiration requires full participation, commitment and assistance from all stakeholders including government agencies, transport operators, business communities, non-governmental organisations and the local communities. As such, this seminar on CREATING STREETS FOR THE PEOPLE is the first step towards formulating a plan of actions that will be further detailed out by MBPJ.

The seminar aims to :-

1. Create awareness amongst all concerned on what it takes to create an environment conducive for pedestrians and cyclists
2. To engage all stakeholders on identifying critical areas for implementation.
3. To formulate together the plans and road map for implementation of an integrated transportation solutions focussing on the sustainable modes of transportation.
